Today's Game

Coach Roger Robinson's record of having never coached a losing team, before and at Cortland, is in jeopardy today. With a 4-4 record, the Dragons must win this afternoon to finish on the plus side of the .500 ledger.

Coaches say it's especially nice to win the last game of the season as it sets the tone for the first game of the following year. Reports indicate, however, that Central Connecticut has little sympathy for Cortland coaching records and would also just as soon set a happy note for their own 1971 season.

The Blue Devils come into today's game with a 5-1-1 record. They feel their record could have been even better had not their quarterback corps been decimated all at once.

In CC's win over Trenton State, their fourth in a row at the beginning of the season, both starting signal-caller Dale Finch and his back-up, soph Bob Hayes, were racked up. The Devils were the fourth-rated ECAC Division II team at the time, but forced to start the next two games with a defensive halfback at the reins. They were tied by Glassboro and beaten by Edinboro.

Last week the Blues rebounded for a win over American International, 20-0, with still another starter at quarterback. He is today's probable starter, junior John Magaletta. Originally a QB, John was switched to offensive end before the campaign got underway and is, in fact, the team's leading receiver with 10 grabs for 184 yards and three touchdowns.

The CC runners to keep your eyes on today are fullback Bill Tinlen, the team's leading ground gainer with 403 yards on 70 carries, and halfbacks Bill Mackey with 242 yards on 66 attempts and a team-leading five td's, and Dick Cunningham, who has averaged nearly four yards per rush. The team's bread and butter on offense is the option and it remains to be seen whether or not Magaletta is ready to execute with the success enjoyed before the injury bug struck the Devils. The other two quarterbacks are both questionable in regards to their health. Hayes should play, however.

Central Connecticut's strength is defense, as has traditionally been the case with Bill Loika-coached teams. Before last week's AIG game the Devils were the number eight college division team in the country at defending against the rush. After seven games they have allowed an average of just 83.4 yards per game to the enemy's running attack.

The invaders are led by their two-time All-ECAC First Team middle linebacker Ken Blasser, a 6-2, 212-pound hitter with good speed. He is rated the best ever at CC and is regarded as a good pro prospect. Other defensive standouts include three-year starter Pete Anderson, 6-4, 245, at end, and the defensive secondary's leader, Tom Leonard.

The Devils will run into a Cortland offense today that at times has been very good and at other times non-productive. The entire team should be buoyed by last week's eleventh hour win over Northeastern in Boston, however. Joe Bramante is again running at full speed from the tailback slot and quarterback John Anselmo had probably his best game of the year last week. Seniors Paul Besstak and Tom Butcher round out today's all-senior starting Dragon backfield. Senior Fred Ciampi bows out today after three seasons as the team's regular punter. So far this season from punt formation he has kicked right-footed, kicked left-footed, run the ball, passed the ball. It's a guessing game as to what he will do. Earl Rogers takes one last shot today at adding to the school receiving records that he holds. To date, he has 27 catches for 538 yards.

Both the offensive and defensive lines for the hillmen have undergone significant shake-ups resulting from a rash of late-season injuries. On offense, Van Berg replaces Gary Metz (ankle) at a guard, and Gary Van Derzee takes over for Len Schlacter (ankle) at right tackle. The steadying influences will be right guard Bob Donnelly, who has managed to stay healthy all year for a change, and reliable Phil Grebinar, who last week played five different positions, including two on defense.

Recent starters on the defensive front wall are John Fowler at a tackle, Bob Del Rosso at middle-guard and Hank Carpenter at right end. Mickey Spillett suffered a shoulder separation last week end and will be replaced by Russ Jarem, who will move from safety to cornerback while Rocky Conte takes over at safety. This will also be the last game for tackle Mike Capeto, linebacker and defensive signal-caller Ken Teetz, linebacker Terry DeBoy and safety Dean Peterson.

DADS' GAME

Today's final football game of the 1970 season has been designated as Dads' Day. Fathers of each of the football players on the squad have been invited by Athletic Director Fran Woods and the Men's Athletic Association to be special guests at today's game. The dads visited with College personnel at a coffee hour before the game and will get together with the coaches, players, and other members of their families over sandwiches in Brockway Hall after the game.

Participation's the Goal In Intramural Programs

You won't find many people in the stands but you will find a lot of people participating. Where? In the College's intramural programs, where the competition may not be at the same level as in varsity intercollegiate play but where the participants are trying just as hard to make a good showing and are making these showings in a wide range of activities. Just as at the circus, there should be something for everyone.

The men's intramural calendar, under the direction of Faculty Director Roland Eckard, lists no fewer than 31 activities that students, staff, and faculty members are welcome to take part in.

During the fall season, flag football, soccer, golf, tennis, cross country, archery, horse shoes, three-man basketball, a hole-in-one contest and a relay carnival were scheduled. Participation was widespread and continues to grow. In flag football alone, more than 400 men were on 28 teams in four leagues. There were 92 games played plus a championship game.

In the winter the College community will find basketball, handball, squash, box lacrosse, a free throw contest, a set shot contest, wrestling, swimming, badminton, volleyball, indoor soccer, water polo, bowling and a winter games night on tap.

In the spring there will be competition in softball, track and field, tennis, golf, archery, horse shoes and lacrosse.

Last year, even with the abbreviated spring season, due to the nationwide campus unrest in May, there were a total of 2,110 participants in the program. As the Recreation and Intramural Sports Handbook points out, "The regular participation in physical activity may well be an important antidote for today's physical, mental, and emotional stresses."

Participation in the program is completely voluntary and there are no tangible awards given for either team or individual champions. A good deal of the administration of the program, which is considerable, is undertaken through laboratory projects by men enrolled in the "Intramurals" course that is offered as an elective. These class members divide and see to the details of the particular program they select. There may be as many as three or four involved with a large activity, such as flag football or softball, while just one will handle a less involved activity such as the three-man basketball tournament. Additional help, if needed, comes from work-study students and the Intramural Council.

Women's Program

The women's intramural program is separate from the men's and is organized a bit differently. An executive board of seven officers, under the faculty direction of Miss Mary Ellen Senkowski, an instructor in women's physical education, and the individual team managers organize and administer the program.

Scheduled in the fall were field hockey, archery, soccer, golf, tennis and flag football. A track and field club was organized and coed archery was sponsored. Winter sports will be badminton and volleyball. Bowling is now under the organization of the Board of Governors using the alleys in the Fay L. Corey College Union. Third quarter activities will be basketball and possibly fencing and skiing, while in the fourth quarter archery, golf, tennis, softball and track and field will be offered.

Just as they've done for the first four home football games this year, Athletic Director Fran Woods, right, and Student Athletic Director Mike Galvin plan the many details that must be taken into account on game day. Galvin provides, through scrubs and volunteer student help, parking lot attendants, ticket takers, ball boys, linesmen for the game and a host of other positions that must be filled, while Dr. Woods oversees the general framework of hosting a game.

Except for advisement and scheduling, the program is student-run. Participation credits are awarded toward an intramural Women's Athletic Association certificate or award. There is a banquet at the end of the year combining intramural and intercollegiate participants.

An outgrowth of the program is the Central New York Women's Association and the Recreation Association, representing 16 member colleges. From a yearly business meeting of these groups come 35 Sports Days, held at the various schools. Cortland will be the site of four of these days this year and will attend four others. Teams for these occasions are comprised of women from each intramural team who sign up to play on one school team.

Robinson Looks to Eighth Winning Season

Roger Robinson begins his eighth year with a 39-19 record and has never had a losing year at Cortland. In fact, no team with which he has been associated as a coach has ever suffered a sub-.500 campaign. Robinson came to Cortland in 1963 after serving as backfield coach and freshman track head for six years at Harvard. Prior to that he was head coach at Port Jervis High School in football and track, 1951-56, and before that served as line coach for two years under the late Andy Kerr at Lebanon Valley (Pa.)

Robinson graduated from Syracuse in 1947 and picked up his master's from the same school a year later. Upon graduation he played in the East-West Shrine Game in San Francisco and was also drafted by the Washington Redskins but passed on a shot at a pro career in favor of entering the teaching/coaching profession. He was a two-way performer at single wing tailback and defensive safety. The father of eight is an associate professor in the Physical Education Department. He will work with the offensive backs and kickers.

OFFENSIVE INTERIOR LINE: Larry Martin is a graduate of SUC Cortland where he was a two-year starter as an end under "Chugger" Davis. He also played golf as an undergrad and is presently the College's golf coach. He spent 10 years in the high school ranks before returning to Cortland. He holds a doctorate from Springfield.

DEFENSIVE INTERIOR LINE: Jack Emmer begins his second year in Dragon country and is also the varsity lacrosse coach. A 1967 graduate of Rutgers, he captained both the football and lacrosse squads. He holds most Rutgers pass receiving records. A 13th round pick of the New York Jets, he was a late cut and subsequently played two years with the pro Long Island Bulls. He coached and taught two years in Long Island high schools.

DEFENSIVE BACKS: Andy Grieve moves to this post after five years as head of the Baby Dragon grid-ders. A graduate of Ithaca College and N.Y.U., he spent 17 years in New York and Pennsylvania prep ranks before coming to Cortland in 1965.

DEFENSIVE ENDS: Jerry Casciani comes to Cortland after serving as district department head of health and physical education in York, Pa. He is a Springfield grad where he played football and wrestled. He will be frosh wrestling coach. Previous coaching assignments have been at York J.C., Manhasset H.S., and Baltimore J.C. where he coached a national championship lacrosse team. He holds a master's from Penn State.

SCOUT TEAMS: Carl Hinkle will be in charge of setting up coming opponents' offenses and defenses. A graduate of Montana State where he played football, he has assisted the past two years at Ithaca College and Cornell, respectively.

RECEIVERS: Pete Warner comes back to his alma mater as a grad assistant after two years of teaching/coaching and try-outs with the Houston Oilers and Hamilton Tiger-Cats. He's one of the best receivers ever to play for Robinson.

LINEBACKERS: Doug Parsons played two years of linebacker at Cortland before an army stint that included a Viet Nam tour.

FRESHMAN COACH: Bob Wallace is back in football after missing a year due to a sabbatical leave. He studied secondary physical education in Europe. Wallace is a '53 Cortland grad and was an outstanding QB under Davis. He began his teaching and coaching at Cortland in 1956. He also serves as varsity baseball coach and in 13 seasons has a winning percentage of .714. He has never had a losing season.

ASSISTANT: Vince Gonino recently was named second runner-up for the "Rookie Coach of the Year Award" among the more than 100 eligible varsity wrestling coaches across the country. He was a prep standout in football, wrestling and track at Watertown High before matriculating at Ohio State, from which he graduated in 1960. He was an outstanding wrestler with the Buckeyes. He begins his sixth year on the hill and will work with the frosh linemen this fall. He recently concluded wrestling and football summer camps at nearby Greek Peak.

ASSISTANT: Andy Oleski is a 1969 Cortland graduate, a letterman in both football and lacrosse. He taught at Lincoln Sudbury H.S. in Sudbury, Mass. last year, coaching J.V. football and starting a lacrosse program at the school. He will work primarily with the defensive backs, the position he played, and will also be the freshman lacrosse coach this spring.

$9.8 Million HPER Center Being Built To Serve Needs of a Growing Campus

Work has begun on the construction of the College at Cortland's $9.8 million Health, Physical Education and Recreation Center which has been designed to meet the unique requirements of Cortland's HPER curriculum. The center will accommodate classrooms and other teaching spaces as well as activity areas and will be situated across the service road and to the west of the existing Lusk Field House.

The Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation presently is located in the Moffett Center in the principal academic area of the campus and it is anticipated that most of the division's activities will be moved to the new Center when construction is completed in 1972.

The Division comprises the Departments of Health Education, Men's Physical Education, Women's Physical Education and Recreation Education. The Division's 1969 fall enrollment totaled 989 at the undergraduate level and 129 in graduate studies. The College's total enrollment for the year was approximately 4,800 students.

In addition to serving the needs of the HPER major programs, the new Center will provide facilities to serve the increasing needs of students in all divisions of the College. Non-majors represent a sizable portion of the students enrolled in HPER courses each year.

The architectural firm of Sargent-Webster-Crenshaw & Folley of Syracuse designed the building after consultation with members of the appropriate staffs of the Division of Health, Physical Education and Recreation and especially with the advice of Dean Whitney T. Corey (now acting vice president for academic affairs).

The bottom, or basement, level will house ten handball and eight squash courts, a wrestling room and an exercise room. To the south will be a 50-meter pool which will have six lanes, two one-meter boards and two-three meter boards. Electronic timers are planned and an upstairs gallery will seat 1,000 people.

The ground level is to include an enclosed hockey rink to the west which will have its own locker area and will accommodate approximately 2,500 spectators on the second level. Showers and both men's and women's lockers will be on this level as will be all offices for male faculty.

On the same floor will be three team rooms, a training room, a fencing and motor learning room, a laboratory classroom complex for human performance, five classrooms (including one over-sized), a faculty lounge, a student reading lounge and a tiered-seat auditorium for lecture-demonstrations.

Aside from the hockey rink gallery, the second, or top, floor will include a drafting room and construction laboratory for the Recreation Department and that department's faculty offices. The swimming pool gallery is also on this level as are concession and rest room facilities and three dance studios—one each for modern dance, social forms, and choreography.

The middle of this level will be occupied by the main competition gym which will be comprised of three full-sized 94 x 50-foot basketball courts laid side by side. Sliding bleachers will cover the outside courts when needed and will seat approximately 3,600. There will be a press box parallel to the main floor.

One end of the level calls for a small gymnasium and an adjacent competitive gymnastics gym. Offices for women faculty members, a Men's Athletic Association meeting room and intramural headquarters complete the level.

Budget economies dictate a structural steel frame for the Center, with exposed finishes throughout and a compactly organized system of mechanical and electrical equipment. A 12-inch by 12-inch brick unit is to be used for the exterior building material, chosen for its compatibility with the architectural massiveness of the building.

The J.G.A. Construction Corporation of Syracuse was the successful bidder on the contract for the project. Electrical work will be performed by Randall Electric, Inc., of Syracuse, and the plumbing, heating, ventilating and air conditioning work will be performed by Kenneth A. Taylor, Inc. also of Syracuse.

Building the HPER Center is a part of the State University's multi-billion dollar physical development program which is directed by the State University Construction Fund, headed by Dr. Anthony G. Adinolfi, general manager. This public benefit corporation was established in 1962 by the Legislature upon the recommendation of Governor Nelson A. Rockefeller to expedite the construction of facilities to meet the State University's Master Plan requirements.

Who Are This Year's Dragon All-Americans?

The school year of 1969-70 produced a bumper crop of Cortland All-Americans. No less than eight hill students were accorded national recognition, four in spring sports. Six of these outstanding athletes will be back in the red and white this year, trying to duplicate, or better, last year's selections. Can all six repeat? Will there be Dragon newcomers to the elite corps of the country's best? While you follow the 1970-71 action, here is a quick look at SUCC's best of a year ago.

FOOTBALL: Earl Rogers and tackle Pat Nugent both were named College Division Honorable Mention All-American by the Associated Press. Rogers is called the best Cortland receiver ever (see Page 30 for school records). The pros are interested. Nugent, of Brewerton, was signed by Canadian football's Hamilton Tiger-Cats but failed to make the team.

SOCCER: Steady fullback Bob White was a primary reason for last year's soccer resurgence on the hill and the Holland, N. Y. native returns this year to lead his mates in a run for the SUNYAC championship. He was a New York State A-A choice.

SWIMMING: Sophomore tanker Bob Stefferson, a Great Neck South High grad, was a two-event All-American. He was eighth nationally (College Division) in the 400 individual medley at 4:37, and 12th in the 200-yard backstroke, 2:09.0. The top 12 finishers in each event are named A-A. Bob's only a junior this year.

BASEBALL: Ken Torrey became the first Cortland horsehider ever to make A-A. As a junior center fielder, the native of Babylon, N. Y. hit .392 and his 10 triples were the most in the nation by a College Division player. He set school season records for: most hits, 31; triples, 10; and total bases, 52. He was selected to second team A-A.

LACROSSE: As a junior, midfielder Donny Hallenbeck was named second team A-A. Hallenbeck, the team's tough face-off man, scored 18 points on 13 goals and five assists to go with a fine all-round field game. He's a graduate of Massapequa High.

In his final season Rich O'Leary, an attackman from East Meadow, was named to the third team after being a second team selection as a junior. He led the team in scoring with 22 goals and 31 assists. He had three points in the annual North-South All-Star Game. Crease-attackman Paul Wehrum had an outstanding sophomore year. The Freeport alum fired in 38 goals to go with one assist to rank as the squad's number two scorer. He was named A-A Honorable Mention.

Notes on Cortland's part in the first 101 years of collegiate football—While Princeton and Rutgers, the two 1869 combatants in college football's inaugural, start their 102nd year of football, Cortland's Red Dragons launch their 43rd. . . . Six Hill coaches have guided the monsters to a record of 162-109-23, a very respectable winning percentage of .597. . . . Should the Dragons win their first two they would climb above .600. . . . Cortland's original 1925 schedule was comprised of games with Syracuse Frosh, Slippery Rock, St. Bonaventure J.V., Colgate Frosh, Stroudsburg (no "East" yet), Mansfield, and Oswego Normal. . . . Not only did the next few years pick up modern rival Ithaca, but also the likes of Cornell J.V.s and Frosh, Alfred Frosh (Cortland didn't play their varsity until 1940 although the Dragons played their yearlings in 1926), Manlius, Keystone Academy, Hartwick, the Morrisville Aggies, Arnold College and Genesee Wesleyan. . . . Over the years Cortland has met 48 representatives of 43 institutions and holds a 28-17-3 all-time-series edge. . . . Note the number of schools Cortland has met over the seasons that no longer, (a) play football, (b) exist. . . . Most wins in one season is eight, 1964; most losses, six in 1927 (the year the Babe hit 60 out), most ties, three in 1932. . . . The teams of 1932-33 were undefeated but had five ties between them. . . . From 1932 through 1937, "Chugger" Davis teams were 28-4-7, for an .875 win clip. . . . There have been three undefeated seasons but never a perfect year—at least one tie each campaign. . . . Winless years were 1927, 0-6-1, and 1928, 0-5-1. . . . Davis finished with a .610 percentage, Robinson currently .672. . . . The game with the University of Indiana (Pa.) will be the first grid meeting ever between the schools. . . . The average tenure of each Cortland coach has been about 7½ years. . . . 28 seasons with Davis, only one each for Hendricks and Hobson, only two with Kumpf. . . . Nine games in '70 ties for most contests in one season with '64 and '65. . . . Only five games played in 1942 for the least number played any fall since 1925, excluding World War II years.

Physical Education Is the Subject

21 Cortland Students Study in Germany

In what is believed to be the only physical education program of its kind in this country, 21 College at Cortland undergraduates are now studying in Germany. The program, developed last year and now in its first semester, is titled "Semester Abroad in Physical Education."

The program was developed by the Physical Education Departments in cooperation with Dr. Willi Uschald, Director of International Programs for SUCC, and was approved by the Study Abroad Committee.

Dr. Marcia Spaeth, acting Dean of the HPER Division, says studying in Germany should provide the students with:

—An opportunity to study abroad in their field of specialization.

—A new perspective on the American sports program.

—An opportunity to learn the international aspects of physical education.

Dr. Spaeth has worked closely with those setting up the program, translating from German into English the institute's catalog and subsequently helping to administer the program.

From 32 applicants, a committee selected 21 students to inaugurate the program. Of the 17 women and four men, seven are juniors and 14 are seniors. Only upperclassmen are eligible to participate.

Upon being selected last year, the group took a beginning German course the spring semester as a foundation to help overcome the language barrier.

The host college is the Deutsche Sporthochschule in Cologne. The institute serves as a professional training and preparation school for physical education specialists. In addition to this center of operations, there are four more cooperating institutes nearby at which the students study.

Before settling down to their chosen curriculum, the group spent the first month in intensive German instruction, orientation and field trips. The group was then broken into four smaller groups and each was assigned and sent to one of the four institutes outside of Cologne.

On Wednesdays the group meets for lecture courses in Cologne; the other four days are spent in study at the other institutes. The lecture courses at the Sporthochschule are presented in English by German instructors, the courses at the other schools—many of which are activity classes—are presented in German.

Miss Buff Wang is the College's Faculty Field Director and coordinates the students' academic programs and advises on special projects. Each student, as part of the curriculum, undertakes a special project. The project will earn either six or eight credit hours, depending on its nature.

The students live either in dormitories at the institutes or in private homes. The fee to each student is $1,200 plus the normal State University tuition, a total that is comparable to a semester's expense at Cortland.

Each student will earn either 15 or 17 credit hours, the variables being due to the type of project selected. The courses and credit are within elective hours in physical education and are equivalent to a full semester of work here.

Since everyone knows that all work and no play will make a Red Dragon dull, the students will spend the Christmas holidays at a ski lodge, owned by one of the institutes, in the Alps. Before returning for the start of the second semester the students will also visit Munich—site of the 1972 Olympics—and other cities of interest.

A new group is now in the process of being selected and will again number about 20 students, which is the number the program was set up to accommodate. Expansion of the program to include more students per semester is dependent upon German space available.

THE VIKING BLOOD BANK

Meet the man who has given away more than 10,000 pints of blood. He personally has contributed no less than 62 pints, or close to eight gallons of his own. His name is Paul Schwegler. Four decades ago he was an All-America tackle at the University of Washington. In 1968, he was inducted into the National Football Hall of Fame.

Meet also some of the 220 football-oriented men who twice each year, if they are in Los Angeles, donate a pint of their blood to help those in dire need. Virile men all, most of them have a prominent football past, though some are standouts of other sports.

Over all, the personable, booming Schwegler, who has a heart THIS big, constantly stands as the prodding chief and cheerleader. When he grabs a fellow's lapels or buttonholes him, things happen. What has emerged is perhaps the most unique life-saving fraternity of its kind extant—The Viking Blood Bank.

It is quite a story, something different, something fine, something inspirational. It also is something that tugs at you, and makes one glad to know such considerate and unselfish people are around.

The story was born in 1951. Schwegler, now a sales executive at 20th Century-Fox, was determined to help a friend in need, Robert Welch. Welch, who had produced NBC's "The Comedy Hour" television show, was suffering from a bleeding ulcer. Blood transfusions were desperately needed. Responding to Schwegler's hurried calls were 10 football pals. Over a period of months, no less than 124 pints of blood were donated for Welch. It kept him alive—for ten more years, in fact.

A Call for More Blood

So the story started. Now, 10,000 pints later, who can tell where this selfless giving to the less fortunate will end? Spurred by the stimulating motivation of the Welch case, Schwegler moved on a much wider scale. First he was heeding a rising call for more blood which emanated mostly from friends of the original donors. Then the pleas from far and wide mounted as the Welch story spread.

Schwegler had but one course—get more blood and get additional men, particularly former football players, to participate.

He went to Ken Hansen, the owner of Scandia, a Los Angeles restaurant. It was there that the 10 original contributors had met at noon on Mondays, prior to visiting the blood bank. They were part of a frolicsome group, called The Vikings, which lunched monthly on the day the restaurant was normally closed. Their Chief was Schwegler.

"Look, Ken," Schwegler said, "this group has been meeting at Scandia for some time before going down to the Red Cross headquarters. Why can't we give our blood right here? Can't we bring a mobile unit to the restaurant, have our usual lunch, and make a kind of party of it?"

"I'll not only go along," Hansen quickly responded, "I'll do more. I'll provide the lunch and the libation for everyone who comes and gives a pint of blood."

500 Pints Annually

The Red Cross was agreeable if 100 pints could be guaranteed. That was no problem whatever. The program is now in its 19th year. The Vikings hold their blood-giving get-together twice each year, in the spring and in the fall. They "play" to Scandia's capacity. That means 220 donors at a time, served by two mobile units. What with other contributions between times, the total bank "deposits" come to around 500 annually.

Two Red Cross units are set up in Scandia's main dining room. In attendance are one physician and 20 nurses. It is a compelling sight.

Van Johnson of movie fame once called upon Schwegler for blood for Elsie Janis and was a regular donor thereafter. Other contributors are Evelle Younger, Los Angeles County District Attorney, Peter Pitchess, the county Sheriff, and Attorney Paul Caruso.

Thanks largely to eight pints of Viking blood, Keith Higgins is alive and living a normal life today. In 1957, when eight years old, Higgins underwent the first open-heart surgery ever performed anywhere, at the USC School of Medicine.

Besides the hundreds of recipients in Southern California, patients from such distant points as Anchorage, Alaska; Portland, Maine; and Miami, Florida, as well as cities in between, have benefited.

Hail to the Chief, not the President in this case, but to the Chief and the men of the Viking Blood Bank.

Outdoor Education Center

For 22 years, the College at Cortland has been able to offer students a unique off-campus experience in the heart of the Adirondack wilderness surrounded by two and a half-million acres of Forest Preserve lands. Accessible only by boating across more than a mile of open water or by driving across ice two-feet thick during winter, the facility is the College's Outdoor Education Center at Raquette Lake.

The purpose of the Center is "to serve the educational needs of the College community with particular emphasis in areas related to environmental education." During the 1969-70 year, the Center was the site of 48 separate programs over a period covering 302 days. The number of students participating in these programs totals 1,536, more than 40 percent of the College's full-time undergraduate population.

Required undergraduate courses, summer session courses, field trips and workshops constitute the majority of SUCC's Raquette Lake programs. Continuing education programs, meetings and conferences complete the year-round schedule.

Students majoring in biology, physical education and recreation education are the chief participants. Biology offerings include field trips in the areas of mammalogy, taxonomy of vascular plants and limnology. Men and women physical education students take the required Outdoor Education course which is usually a two-week program at the Center. Recreation Education majors also take Outdoor Education.

One of the long-time users of the Outdoor Education Center is the Campus-Laboratory School at the College. Junior high school students have regularly participated in the environmental education offerings at the Center. With the junior high school classes now phased out, Campus School students in fifth and sixth grades will continue to have opportunities to study at Raquette Lake.

George Fuge, a 1949 graduate of Cortland, became director of the Center in 1962. Since he has been in the position, Raquette Lake programs have increased by 300 percent. One of his most time-consuming tasks is responding to requests for information and assistance in developing environmental education programs in educational institutions throughout the United States. Last year, he had 400 such requests. In addition, 157 persons visited the Center in 69-70 to observe and audit on-going programs. Seven public school systems in New York State developed their own programs with the assistance of the Center's staff.

Most cars just change. This one changes your driving.

It's a Camaro.

Driving one is like nothing you've ever done before. Unless, of course, you've driven one before. It gives you a whole new outlook toward what a car should be. And how
